

Face and Bodypainting Safety and Liability:

No Cosmetic, Makeup, Paint, Face Paint, Dye, Herb, or Bodypaint is 100% allergic-free or safe to be applied to skin. Anyone can get a allergic reaction or adverse effect from painting or makeup use, FDA Approved or Not. However, only a small percentage of the population have been known to have adverse effects or allergic reaction. The key to bodypainting is to know yourself and your skin. What works for one person may not work for another. If you are unsure if you have any paint, dye, or herb allergies – please test a dab of the desired paint/dye/herb on your skin 10-20 minutes before getting painted. If you have no irritation, itchiness, or reaction – you most likely are not allergic. This is not 100%. Knowing that there is always a chance for an allergic reaction to paints, dyes, or herbs – it is 100% your choice and personal responsibility for liability for body or face painting. By getting painted in this booth or by these artists – you are holding them and this event free from liability or responsibility should you have an allergic reaction or adverse effect.
